

Student L2A1

Instructions: Answer the following questions in small groups. Be prepared to discuss your answers with the rest of the class.

This activity is focused on helping you identify and evaluate the nature of IT environments you frequently encounter:

1. Over the past week, what IT environments did you encounter?
 2. Who do you think owned those IT environments? If you do not know the actual person or organization, describe the type of entity (examples: individual, business, government).
 3. What technology components did you observe for each of these environments?
 4. What technology components do you suppose may be present even though you did not see them?
